“Smart on Crime – Tough on Results”

Invest wisely in training and programs directly affecting your safety:

Maximize limited funds to train Deputies on the street and Detention Officers in the jails. Adjust staffing levels in all positions to create an effective response to public safety concerns. Eliminate wasteful spending on publicity motivated initiatives.

Work closely with law enforcement agencies to maximize limited resources:

Successful policing strategies depend on partnerships and shared resources. The limited resources within our County are being used for political promotions and other non-law enforcement related duties.

Collaborate with community partners to prevent crime and improve quality of life:

Effective policing can only be accomplished through community involvement. The County lacks relationships with its community partners - schools, business, and faith.

Reorganize the jail system to focus on rehabilitation and implement programs to prevent repeat offenses:

We need meaningful and productive rehabilitation programs that will reduce the current recidivism rate of 60% and keep criminals from coming back. Programs that will treat addiction by requiring rigorous treatment options for first time offenders are keys to reducing repeat offenders.

Protect individual liberties under the U.S. Constitution:

I'm obligated to protect your rights, not use my authority to abuse them.
